ORR Senior Sets Sights on Europe

By Kenneth J. Souza

Though she recently took her final bow onstage with the Old Rochester Regional High School Drama Club during last month's production of Little Shop of Horrors, senior Andrea Caron isn't planning on abandoning her passions for drama and music any time soon. In fact, Ms. Caron was recently selected to perform with The Sound of America Honor Band and Chorus — a group comprised of about 120 student-musicians representing nearly every state in the union which will embark on a European Concert tour this July. Ms. Caron is the first ORR High School student ever selected for this prestigious honor, and one of the few Massachusetts representatives in attendance this year.

A Marion resident and current President of the ORR Drama Club, Ms. Caron has been involved in local theater for years, beginning with an early stint while still in elementary school in a production of Oliver!, directed by Paul Sardinha. Mr. Sardinha would later become a vital mentor to Ms. Caron during her four-year high school drama career.

"I did a couple of drama shows when I was in elementary school ... and then freshman year I started in the fall and I've been in every show," Ms. Caron said. "Paul Sardinha has taught me so much and given me so much confidence in myself and my voice. I can remember right before my All-State audition last year, I was so nervous, and he just smiled and told me 'You're going to make it. I have total faith in you. You are going to go on to bigger and better things.' He's always told me that I can do anything I want to do if I just put my mind to it. I've just believed in that and it's gotten me here."

Attributing her vocal talents to her mom, Ms. Caron said she enjoys and appreciates all types and styles of music, though she's partial to singing selections from Broadway productions.

"I like everything pretty much," she said. "I sing a lot of show tunes. I love choral singing (and) I love singing duets. I sing duets with my mother all the time. I listen to everything. Phantom of the Opera is my favorite musical — I can pretty much sing everything Sarah Brightman does. My voice doesn't sound like hers, but I can sing everything Christine does."

Although she has been singing her whole life, Ms. Caron has studied voice seriously since the eighth grade. Last year, she was selected as a member of the Southeast District Chorus and the Massachusetts All-State Chorus. She has performed at Bridgewater State College, UMass Dartmouth, and at Girls' State. She was also a member and featured soloist in the Sippican Choral Society and occasionally performs solos or duets with her mother at St. Gabriel's Church in Marion, where she is an active member. In trying to describe her soprano voice, Ms. Caron found it difficult to characterize.

"Some people have told me I sound like an angel," she said. "A lot of people just say I have a very sweet voice, very easy to listen to. I've brought tears to a lot of people's eyes before. I guess I can touch people right in the heart (with my singing)."

Like many people, Ms. Caron admits it's difficult to assess her own talents or try to critique herself. She said she more often remembers the times she's made mistakes than the times when she's given a great performance.

"It's weird saying 'I'm a good singer.' I just go out there and I sing," she said. "I remember my bad days — the days when (my voice) cracks. Or when I'm horrible and I sing off-key. I like to (concentrate) more on the bad things so I can make myself better. I'm a very modest person and it comes across as insecurity. I don't think anybody has an easy time describing themselves. It's hard for someone to say: 'I'm one of the best at this.'"

She was even a little reluctant to initially apply for The Sound of America project and was hesitant to seek support from the local community to help offset the $4,000 expense of attending.

"I didn't want people to think I'm self-centered ... 'look at me, look at what I'm doing,'" she said. "I just wanted to let (others) know that people from this community can go on to bigger and better things."

But when The Sound of America opportunity arose, Ms. Caron did express interest to her parents, both of whom were as supportive as they were in the past.

"I brought it to my parents and told them I really wanted to do it and they were very supportive," she said. "My parents have always been there and supported me. My dad always jokes that I got my voice from (mom) and my looks from him. But he's always there supporting me — he goes to all the shows."

Despite being both a skilled singer and dancer, Ms. Caron admits that acting may just edge out her other two main interests. And with an eye on the shimmering lights of Broadway, she hopes to one day roll all her talents into one.

"I love acting maybe a smidge more, (but) it's hard to choose," she said. "I couldn't pick, really. I want to be an actress, but I'd love to go on Broadway, so that encompasses acting, singing and dancing.

"I'd love to do films ... I've always wanted to win an Oscar. I watch them every year and say 'I'm going to be up there someday.' My sister already made me promise that I'd take her if I ever get there. It's a long shot, but you never know."

With interests in both drama and music, Ms. Caron hopes to pursue an acting career either on Broadway or in theatrical productions which blend equal parts music, dance and drama — three of her foremost passions. She'll be attending the University of Maryland this fall, majoring in Marine Biology with a concentration in another area of study — most likely the arts.

"They have an excellent theater department and some of their theater groups actually tour in Baltimore and (Washington) D. C.," she said. "I hope to make it into that."

On June 30, Andrea plans to join students from across the country for four days of rehearsal after which they will embark on a 20-day concert tour beginning in Germany. The group will present ten performances in some of Europe's finest concert halls including Notre Dame Cathedral in Paris and St. Mark's Cathedral in Venice.

Ms. Caron is excited about the forthcoming adventure and hopes to use the valuable experience this summer as a springboard to future opportunities.

"I hope to gain vocal experience ... going over to Europe and singing in all these wonderful cathedrals is something I've always wanted to do, but I never thought I would," she said. "They do have solo spots, and I'll probably be auditioning for one of them, but I won't know until I get there. If I get a solo, it could lead to other things."

Students who have qualified for The Sound of America membership are responsible for all costs involved with the trip, totalling about $4,000. Andrea is hoping to offset some of this expense with financial support from the community, local businesses and organizations. Tax-deductible contributions can be made payable to "Sound of America/Andrea Caron" and sent to: Andrea Caron, 20 Inland Road, Marion, MA 02738. The Department of Environmental Protection (DEP) submitted their initial application for a Response Action Permit for the Tier 1 Disposal Site.

At 7:04 pm the board met with their first scheduled appointment of the evening. Debbie DeWalt of the Mattapoisett School Committee and Town Moderator Bill Blasdale requested a meeting with the board to request the re-appointment of Blanche B. Perry to the Old Colony Regional Voke School Committee. Ms. Perry has been one of the School Committee representatives since the inception of the committee in 1975 when it was first built, according to Ms. Adams. With unanimous approval of the application request, the board agreed with Mr. Blasdale and Ms. DeWalt's recommendations to re-appoint Ms. Perry for another term to end in the year 2003.

At 7:15 pm the board met with members of the Mattapoisett Police Brotherhood Association in regards to their ongoing efforts to raise funds for the town Skate Park project. Sergeant Mary Lyons, along with other officers came forward this evening to provide an update to the board on their fund-raising efforts and support of the park plans. Planning Committee along with the Police Brotherhood, also showed their anxious excitement to get the plans underway to start building the park.

Sergeant Lyons reported that to date the Brotherhood, support committee and students have raised over $2,500 over the winter with some other contributions that will come when the construction of the park begins. Selectman Denham confirmed that an 1,800 square foot area near where the new Water/Sewer Building will be going, is available for the skate park location and more footage can be added to that when the plans are drawn up.

Selectman Denham also reported that approximately 300 yards of ground materials will be left over from the police department clean up that can be used as part of the fill for the skate park area in the processes of clearing the land and preparing it for resurfacing. "We can also expect other materials from other projects around town that will have excess soil," Selectman Denham said. "At this point we mainly need to do some clearing of the area. Then we plan on leaving a small buffer of bushes and will decide what the exact configuration (of the park) will be."

He further explained that between now and the time that the Water/Sewer Department mediation is completed the first stages of preparing the area designated for the Skate Park can begin in the next couple of months. Land preparations will include clearing the parcel of land, scraping loom off the top surface, compacting layers of fill and bringing the gravel up to grade with processed materials to go under the black tarp for the skating structures to sit on. Ample drainage areas will be provided in the plan to prevent any water build up on the ground surface and structures.

"It's just like building a road," said Selectman Denham, "it can be the most time-consuming but least costly part of the project." Selectman Denham estimated that it would cost approximately $15,000 to do the asphalt and purchase the skating structures.

Brotherhood are looking for any type of monetary donations from anyone who wishes to support the building of the park. Although there are a lot of willing residents to help and volunteer their time to get the project underway, Selectman Denham mentioned that "What we really need at this point is more money rather than (physical) help," to get the plans and construction of the park underway. In the mean time, anxious skaters have travelled to Fairhaven and other towns to use their facilities and are really looking forward to having something close to home and safely near the Police Station.

At 7:20 pm, the board agreed to continue the Com/Electric Pole hearing again until a later date. The petition is for one pole location on Brandt Island Road, south of Route 6 to accommodate a new customer, but Selectman Denham wants to wait until Com/Electric is available to answer abutters' questions.

Marion Selectmen's Meeting

April 4, 2000

By Kenneth J. Souza

A regular meeting of the Marion Board of Selectmen was called to order on Tuesday, April 4 at 7:00 pm by Chairman Loretta B. Schaefer. Also present were Selectman Albert E. Winters, Selectman Jonathan "Jody" Dickerson, Town Administrator Ray Pickles, and Secretary Helene Craver.

After signing treasury warrants #40 and #41 for the week and approving the minutes of the March 28 meeting, the board unanimously granted a license for a Chicken Bake to be held at the Marion Social Club on April 16 from 12:00 noon to 7:00 pm. They also considered a request for a license for a Passover Seder Supper to be held at the Marion Music Hall on Thursday, April 20 at 6:30 pm. This latter applicant requested a waiver of the $15 fee, which the board tabled pending further details. (Chairman Schaefer wanted to know about the serving of wine at the event.)

At 7:05 pm the board met with Bill Washburn regarding plans to construct a ballfield at Washburn Park. According to Mr. Washburn, he wanted to contact the board to give them an update on how the project was progressing.

"We're hoping to construct a combination girls softball field and minor league field," he said. "We had a little misunderstanding (recently) with the cutting of some trees, but that's been taken care of. We do have someone who's willing to cut the trees at no cost, and we'd like to move on this as soon as possible since he has other commitments."

Mr. Washburn said he met with members of the Conservation Commission (ConCom) and they agreed to the clearing of the trees in question for the ballfield. The newly-constructed field will mainly be used for girls softball and another adjacent open field will be used for various sports events such as T-ball and soccer. The fields are being put of the fast track in order to provide practice and game space for teams which have been temporarily displaced by the construction work at Sippican School.

"Tabor Academy has also allowed us to use one of their fields for games during the season, and we'd like to thank them for that," Mr. Washburn said. "Our (recreation) programs are growing ... the girls' program is up to two teams. We just wanted to come to you and get permission to seek advice from Rob Zora and the DPW on the project."

Chairman Schaefer told Mr. Washburn that he should coordinate everything through Mr. Pickles and the board was wholly supportive of the project as presented. Those interested in making donations of either materials or labor to the project should contact the Marion Recreation Committee.

At 7:25 pm the board met with Science Teacher Richard Harlow from Tabor Academy and students from his AP Science Class who have been working since December of 1996 on monitoring the water quality in Sippican River, Hathaway Pond, and Doggett Brook. The students have been testing the waters for pollution and contamination in an effort to ascertain why the herring population in Sippican River has declined over the years.

Students Chris Carron and Lindsey Simon led the presentation which examined the levels of nutrient pollution and such characteristics as alkalinity, dissolved oxygen, total nitrogen, phosphate, and nitrates. "Due to consistently low alkalinity levels, it is suggested that Sippican River can no longer support the (herring) population," said Mr. Carron.

There was also evidence of sudden increases in the level of phosphate in the water tested, which suggests contamination either from human or animal waste, or the release of laundry detergent into the river. The students promised a complete written report which will be issued to the board at a later date.

"This is useful information for us and we look forward to the written report," Chairman Schaefer said.

Under incoming correspondence, the board received:

The board unanimously voted to add Article 24 — which asks voters to accept the so-called "Strong Chief" statute for the Marion Fire Chief — to the Annual Town Meeting warrant; and also voted to sign and post the complete 33-article warrant for the Annual Town Meeting which will take place on Monday, April 24.

The board also recognized and congratulated Mr. Pickles on celebrating his 28th anniversary working for the Town of Marion as alternately Executive Secretary and now Town Administrator. "We'd like to congratulate you for hanging in that long," Chairman Schaefer said. The announcement was greeted with a round of applause from the residents in attendance.

At 7:58 pm the board unanimously voted to go into Executive Session to discuss pending contract negotiations. They would thereafter adjourn for the evening.

Rochester Special Town Meeting

April 3, 2000

By Kenneth J. Souza

Noting the presence of a 50-voter quorum, Town Moderator Kirby Gilmore convened a Special Town Meeting in the cafetorium of Rochester's Memorial School on Monday, April 3 at 7:30 pm. After a motion from Selectman Naida Parker to allow several non-residents to address Town Meeting, which was unanimously approved, Ms. Parker introduced architect Charles VanVoorhis who made a brief presentation on the proposed expansion and renovation plan to the Rochester Town Hall.

Town Meeting voters previously approved $15,000 for a feasibility study on Town Hall renovations and last year allocated $84,000 to hire Mr. VanVoorhis to complete engineering and design plans for the project. Mr. VanVoorhis wanted to present his proposal to residents and give them a "quick update" on the progress thus far.

"We've been meeting for the last five months, and we're pretty excited that the project will be going out to bid in the next three weeks," Mr. VanVoorhis said. "The Town Hall is one of the three main buildings on the town green ... and we've attempted to bring the building back to its former glory."

Among the key portions of the renovation project: making the building handicap-accessible to comply with the Americans With Disabilities Act (ADA); expand and update the bathroom facilities; expand and repair the parking lot area; and restore the second-floor historic hall as a meeting space. A two-story addition will be added to the rear of the building and an elevator will be installed to make all levels handicap-accessible.

"We're trying to take the original features of the building and bring them back," Mr. VanVoorhis said. "The most exciting part of the project is restoring the upstairs hall ... which will make an excellent meeting room."

The proposed project was greeted with a round of applause and bids are expected to be solicited within the month. An article to fund the expansion and renovation will likely appear on the upcoming Annual Town Meeting warrant.

Mr. Gilmore then turned his attention to the seven-article Special Town Meeting warrant at hand, and began by introducing ARTICLE 1, which asked voters to transfer $125,000 to the Rochester Memorial School FY2000 budget; $20,000 to cover FY2000 Town Counsel expenses; $5,000 for Personnel Board expenses; $48,000 into the Stabilization Fund; and $75,000 to cover outstanding short-term debt for the Rochester Memorial School Technology Loan approved at the 1998 Annual Town Meeting.

These funds were all taken from the $270,000 in Chapter 70 monies allocated to the town this year. Both the Board of Selectmen and Finance Committee (FinCom) conferred with the Rochester School Committee and agreed to use a portion of the money for school purchases in the current fiscal year and to offset past school expenses covered by the town.

"We worked out what we thought was an equitable plan for the town and the school," agreed School Committee Chairman Shirley Bourque. "We'd like to thank both the FinCom and Selectmen for their help and cooperation."

There being no further discussion, the article was unanimously approved by Town Meeting voters.

Under ARTICLE 2, voters were asked to transfer $10,000 from Line Item 4-36A to Line Item 4-37 within the FY2000 budget to cover wages for a future Planning Board Consultant/Planner. Town Meeting allocated $26,000 in the budget to pay for a Town Planner — a position which has yet to be filled. This transfer would use some of that money for the Planning Board consultant. Town Meeting approved the article via majority vote.

Voters also readily approved a transfer of $2,000 from the Dog Fund to make repairs to a donated Animal Control Officer's vehicle which was given to the town by the City of New Bedford under ARTICLE 3.

Under ARTICLE 4, Town Meeting unanimously approved the discontinuance of Perry's Lane from Mary's Pond Road to beyond Old Perry's Place as accepted by Town Meeting in 1941.

ARTICLE 5 asked voters to authorize a Conservation Restriction to the Board of Selectmen and/or Park Commissioners for an approximate 70,683 square foot area of town-owned land off Mary's Pond Road. Conservation Agent Laurell J. Farinon explained that as part of the ongoing attempts to create a public bathing beach at the Mary's Pond location, they have had to make certain changes to the adjacent property to satisfy "environmental concerns."

"We proposed to give up the Conservation Restriction on 1.6 acres of property ... as mitigation for taking (of property) for the beach by eminent domain," she said. "This includes everything east of the current beach."

The action required a two-thirds majority vote of Town Meeting. The article was readily approved by unanimous vote.

Under ARTICLE 6, Town Meeting was asked to authorize a Petition to the General Court to change the use of the same 70,683 square feet of property located at Mary's Pond as part of the public bathing beach project. Ms. Farinon explained that because the property was initially accepted under a conservation restriction, the town needs to authorize a "conversion" or "change of use" because it is being removed from the conservation restriction. The action was approved via unanimous vote.

The major vote of the evening was saved for last under ARTICLE 7, which asked Town Meeting to approve $47,500,000 for the proposed expansion and renovation to Old Rochester Regional Junior and Senior High Schools — Rochester's share of which would be $5,233,360. Rochester School Committee Chairman and ORR School Committee member Shirley Bourque explained that they are ready to move forward with the project.

"This is a pragmatic solution to the educational needs of the region," she said.

Ms. Bourque made a formal presentation which cited several reasons for expansion/renovation, including: increased student enrollment and projected enrollment numbers; the need to bring the building into code compliance for fire, municipal, and ADA requirements; general building repairs to the 40-year-old high school and 28-year-old junior high; the risk for inflation in the future, with more and more building projects on the horizon; and the fact that state funding under the School Building Assistance program is currently at 68 percent for the regional school — a reimbursement rate which could not be guaranteed in the future and would likely decrease in subsequent years.

"If we delay, we will never 68 percent again," Ms. Bourque said. "It's not a threat, it's an important piece of information that you need to have."

breakdown of how the project would affect their tax rate if approved. With Rochester's portion estimated at 34.43 percent and given the town's median home valued at $165,000, a resident could expect their tax bill to jump $1.09 per $1,000 in 2002 (or $180.12); $2.24 per $1,000 in 2003 ($370.04 total); and average about $265 per year thereafter through 2023 (or $1.61 per $1,000 valuation).

Mr. Costa explained that these calculation err on the high side, and suggested the overall tax burden might be less given future development in the town.

With that, Town Meeting approved the ORR renovations and expansion under ARTICLE 7 via majority vote. The measure will now require approval at the ballot box on Wednesday, April 12.

Before adjourning for the evening, Selectman Naida Parker wished to thank and acknowledge Kirby Gilmore's past contributions as Town Moderator, given that this is his final Town Meeting in this capacity. Mr. Gilmore was given a round of applause for serving as Town Moderator.

The Special Town Meeting was adjourned for the evening at 8:45 pm.

To the Editor:

We, the Chairmen of the Tri-Town School Committees, are concerned about the state reimbursement for school building projects under the School Building Assistance Program (SBA) and the impact this would have upon all of us as taxpayers. As of now, specific information is not available about how or when the reimbursement formula would change; but we do believe that it could change in the next year or two, and that any change will likely decrease, perhaps significantly, the amount the state would reimburse to our towns. This change is due, at least in part, to the legislature's recognition of the staggering costs that are being incurred throughout the Commonwealth in order to bring aging school buildings up to codes and also meet the needs of a growing student population.

Currently under Massachusetts General Law Chapter 70, Section 12, our reimbursement rates are as follows: Marion - 60 percent, Mattapoisett - 65 percent, Rochester - 78 percent, and Old Rochester Regional - 68 percent. The construction at Sippican School, having been funded last year and approved by the state, will NOT be affected by any change in the formula and will be reimbursed at the full 60 percent. We have been assured if the building projects at the High School/Junior High School and Center/Old Hammondtown Schools in Mattapoisett are approved by the voters and submitted to the state before any change in the law, they also will qualify for full reimbursement at the current levels.

Under current SBA rules, we are eligible for a

6. Staff members signed the beams as well.

On March 13, the Sippican School Band played and school staff and students and visiting dignitaries all watched and cheered as the three final front beams were set into place. One of the beams carried the classroom flag from the sixth grade in honor of Andrew Rego. A second beam carried the school flag. It was a very exciting ceremony as students counted down from 10 to 1 and gave the "thumbs up" signal to the crane operator. At that signal, the crane operator raised each beam and setit into place atop the framework for the 2000 wing. If you look carefully when you pass the school, you will be able to see the signatures!

The cafeteria, kitchen, art rooms and music rooms have been blocked in and are ready for insulation, waterproofing and brickwork. The brickwork was set to begin this past week. The plumber is running pipe throughout the new addition. The electrician is setting the electrical panels in place. The HVAC contractor is running the pipe for the heat and air conditioning.

A walk around the back of the school, looking in from Park Street, shows a huge cafeteria and the new entrance with the octagonal overhang. The rooms to the right of the entrance are the community room and the music rooms. The rooms to the left are the art rooms and the cafeteria.

If you look closely at the front of the addition, you will see the steps to the second floor being set into place at either end of the steel structure. The project will be ready for the steel inspection on April 7. The inspection means that the steel erection phase of the construction project is close to complete!

HOME SECURITY

There are over 2 million residential burglaries each year. The good news is that this number is declining. Why? Because more people are installing some form of burglar alarm system.

Basically, there are two types of home security systems. The low-cost system sells as a package and is connected to sirens inside and outside the home. Calls for help must come from neighbors hearing the alarm. If you've had many false alarms in the past, don't bet the crown jewels on this. Hopefully, the loud sirens will scare off 95% of the amateur residential intruders.

The more expensive systems have both on-site alarms and an instantanious connection to a central monitoring station which is on line 24-hours a day. When the signal comes into the station, the operator can tell whether it is a burglary, fire or medical emergency. A call then goes out to the proper authority. Whether you go "coach" or "first class," when installing a home security system, you'll have a lot more peace of mind.

Rochester Grange Anniversary

Rochester Grange #257 will celebrate its 94th Anniversary on Wednesday, April 12 at 7:30 pm with an open meeting. The Grange was founded February 12, 1906 with meetings being held at the North Rochester Social Union Hall until building its own hall in 1924. There were 81 charter members. Past Masters of the Grange will be honored at this time. Continuing the tradition of honoring members for their service to the organization Golden Sheaf Certificates will be given to Edith Lizotte and Florence Taylor. Both ladies have been members for 50 years. They will also receive 50-year jewels/pins. They will join nine other members as holders of the Golden Sheaf Awards.

Also to be given out is a video supplied by the organization Mass Agriculture in the Classroom. This organization works with other groups including the Grange to promote State Agriculture in our schools. This video, along with lesson plans, will be presented to Mr. Ryan, Principal of the Rochester Memorial School. There will also be musical entertainment by Art Tebbetts. Movie Review

Play Anything

BY ROB GONSALVES
local@wanderer.com

■ High Fidelity. Starring John Cusack, Jack Black, and Iben Hjejle. Directed by Stephen Frears. Running time: 116 minutes. MPAA rating: R. At Cinema 12 at the North Dartmouth Mall and Flagship Cinemas in New Bedford.

Nick Hornby's well-loved novel High Fidelity is set in London, while the new film version unfolds in Chicago; other than that, the movie is aptly named — it's a faithful adaptation right down to the debates about Top Five records. Reading the book, you can envision it without John Cusack; watching the film, you can't imagine it without him. Cusack meets Hornby's British self-consciousness with his own American brand, adding his Cusackian knack for romantic yearning. He plays guys that guys see themselves in and women see their past or possible future boyfriends in, either fondly or hopefully.

Here he's Rob Gordon, an embittered, thirtysomething owner of a failing record shop. Obsessively cataloguing his vast personal record collection, just as obsessively chewing over his past botched relationships, Rob is a descendant of the Daniel Stern character in Diner, who freaked out when his wife shelved his singles out of order. Rob is a big believer in pop music as both the soundtrack for love and the influence on notions of love, and the film's selection of tunes — mostly beautifully morose songs — bears him out; even the uptempo numbers have names like "You're Gonna Miss Me" and "Cold Blooded Old Times."

Rob has just been dumped by longtime girlfriend Laura (Iben Hjejle), a lawyer who's grown past him and is tired of waiting for him to catch up. Rob seems to have a better rapport (though often hostile) with his cronies at the shop, the effusive Barry (Jack Black) and the recessive Dick (Todd Louiso), both music geeks who seem to represent two extremes that Rob falls in the middle of. He's not quite as hardcore about music as they are; he's slowly growing out of it, but towards what, he's not sure yet. Still, he knows his tunes, as seen in one of many memorable scenes, when Rob spins a Beta Band disc in the shop and waits for the music to lure buyers.

While Rob tries haplessly to recapture Laura's heart — part of which involves distracting her from pompous new flame Ian (old Cusack buddy Tim Robbins in a hilariously insufferable performance) — Rob flashes back on his past disasters, talking directly to us, as if we were friends sitting in on his anguish; this gives the movie a slightly voyeuristic feel. Stephen Frears, who also directed Cusack in The Grifters ten years ago (impossible to think that hard-bitten noir came right on the heels of the gentle Say Anything), expertly creates Rob's cluttered milieu, a place where clarity gets lost in the nooks and crannies of disorganized apartments.

Cusack adapted the book with help from friends D.V. DeVincentis and Steve Pink, as well as Scott Rosenberg. Though I'm not sure why it took four guys to write a script that's almost verbatim from the novel, it's nice to see the three musketeers Cusack, DeVincentis, and Pink together again after their 1997 triumph Grosse Pointe Blank. Their new film has a radically different tone and rhythm — it lacks GPB's dark edge, New Wave pulse, and rapid-fire exchange of quirky dialogue ("I'll put these in some rubbing alcohol," said Minnie Driver when given flowers) — but it's just as organically a Cusack film, with an accumulating gallery of pleasures.

Cusack makes movies for and about disenchanted Gen-X guys; usually, the Cusack hero has to unlearn false self-definition — in GPB it was "I don't think what a person does necessarily reflects who he is," and here it's "What really matters is what you like, not what you are like." High Fidelity follows the commitment-phobic Rob through his bumpy ride to some sort of contentment; the movie ends up saying nothing more remarkable than that the Robs of the world need a Laura to set them straight, but it feels right here, because what Rob yearns for is more than just a warm body in his bed. He needs meaning, structure, a reason to get up in the morning. There's more to life than romance or pop music, but there's no reason you can't combine the two.

Drama and the fifth longest running musical of all time, "How To Succeed in Business Without Really Trying" centers on an opportunist in the business world named J. Pierrepont Finch, a charming young man who climbs the corporate ladder rapidly from window-washer to Chairman of the Board in just one week! All thanks to a little self-help manual he bought! Along the way, he meets up with a disarming secretary named Rosemary, a blustery boss named J. B. Biggley, a sexpot gold-digger named Hedy LaRue, and a sneaky guy named Bud Frump — the boss' nephew. The songs in "How To Succeed in Business Without Really Trying" include "Brotherhood of Man," "A Secretary is Not a Toy," and "I Believe in You."

The Fairhaven High School Production is directed by Kathleen A. Goes and choreographed by John M. Costa. George C. Campeau will conduct the orchestra.

Members of the cast are Jacob Fowle as J. Pierrepont Finch; Madison Charbonneau as Rosemary Pilkington; Daniel O'Rourke as J. B. Biggley; Abram Taber as Bud Frump; Alexandra Merolla at Hedy LaRue; Alissa Fortin as Miss Jones; Victoria Wade as Smitty; and John

Aries (March 21-April 19). You're going to be powerful. Be kind and gracious, as well as cute. You could find lots of ways to make money.

Taurus (April 20-May 20). Conditions push you to take care of business. You'll think of all the things that haven't been finished yet. Make lists!

Gemini (May 21-June 21). Friends and organizations are important to you. You might meet a new friend, or if you're single, you might find new romance.

Cancer (June 22-July 22). You're focusing on your career or some other project that's important to you. A problem needs to be solved.

Leo (July 23-Aug. 22). You'll be interested in travel and higher education. Watch out, though. Travel could get complicated.

Virgo (Aug. 23-Sept. 22). You may be worried about money. If you plow past your fears, you may be able to get a loan or grant to alleviate those concerns.

Libra (Sept. 23-Oct. 23). You're interested in partnerships, legal matters and maybe even marriage. If you do form a partnership, you may have more money to play with.

Scorpio (Oct. 24-Nov. 21). Watch your health. Don't go too fast and smack into something. You should get help from a partner, and that'll be nice.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22-Dec. 21). You'll feel like a kid again. You'll make everybody around you feel like kids again, too. You'll have to get serious, however.

Capricorn (Dec. 22-Jan. 19). Home and family are important for you. Make changes to your place and get things just the way you want them. You'll feel cuddly. Invite your favorite person to come over.

Aquarius (Jan. 20-Feb. 18). You're intelligent. You may want to stay home and take care of personal matters. Don't plan any big outings. Romance looks good.

Pisces (Feb. 19-March 20). You're going to look for ways to make money. You could come up with a brilliant scheme. Your nerves may be on edge, so schedule something relaxing

If You're Having a Birthday This Week: You're gaining strength as the year goes on. Remember to be gentle, too. You have the power of 10 ordinary mortals. Take care to use it wisely!

Animal Advice
Jay Gould, DVM

FERRETS

I am thinking about getting a pet ferret. Will a ferret get along with my child and dog?

Ferrets and dogs usually get along fine. Ferrets should not be left alone with small children as these animals seem to be attracted to fats in kid's skin and may bite.

Do ferrets require special care?

A home must be "ferret proofed" to avoid escape and ingestion of rubber and plastic items. Ferrets should eat ferret food or a premium quality dry kitten food.

What routine veterinary care do ferrets require?

Ferrets are very susceptable to canine distemper and require annual vaccinations for this disease as well as for rabies. Ferrets older than 3 years old frequently develop cancer of the adrenal glands, pancreas and lymphatic system.

Why Your Homeowners Policy MUST be Reviewed

Your home is perhaps one of your biggest assets. It logically follows that the act of insuring it and your valuable possessions must be handled properly.

Having a Policy is Not Enough

Simply having a policy in place may lead you to believe you are adequately covered. In most cases, analysis will uncover glaring gaps in your coverage. Gaps which could cost you hundreds of thousands of dollars at claim time.

Know What You Are Missing

Coverages such as Ordinance or Law, Earthquake, Valuable Items Schedule, Umbrella Liability and Temperature Change coverage are all items you need to fully understand.
To learn more, call the insurance professionals at G.P. Durette Insurance Services, Inc.. Their expert staff will analyze your personal situation to make the best possible presentation of coverages and aggressive pricing available.

Don't Wait Until it's Too Late

Insurance cannot replace your memories. Done properly, it can help you make new ones. Don't delay. Call today.
